PLAINTIFF'S ORIGINAL COMPLAINT AND JURY DEMAND

Plaintiff Larry G. Philpot (“Philpot” or “Plaintiff”) files this Original Complaint and Jury Demand against Defendant Scripps Media, Inc. (“Scripps” or “Defendant”) on personal knowledge as to all facts regarding himself and on information and belief as to all other matters, as follows:

I.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

A professional photographer’s ability to envision, and then immediately capture the entire scene—including non-visual senses such as sounds and smells—is what differentiates their photographs from an amateur’s photographs. These works extend well beyond the four corners of the photograph to evoke sentiments within the viewer so that the viewer is forever a part of the moment captured in time. For concert photographers, the odds are almost always against them—the musicians are constantly moving, the lighting is usually dark and typically changing, and it is practically impossible to secure a good vantage point. But every now and then, a photographer captures a great shot, the kind of iconic shot that makes the viewer forever a part of that very moment in time.

Larry Philpot, an experienced freelance photographer, has honed the art of capturing these rare moments in time. Philpot created a photograph of Willie Nelson during a concert. This photograph is the type of awe-inspiring work that launches a successful photography career. Recognizing this, Philpot offered the photograph under a Creative Commons license, permitting members of the public to use the photograph provided that it is properly attributed to Philpot. In doing so, Philpot carefully marketed his sought-after product while still protecting the quality and his rights in his work.

Defendant Scripps copied and posted Philpot's photograph of Willie Nelson onto its website as its own, thereby infringing on Philpot's copyrighted work. In freelance photography, the reputation and licensing revenue guarded by copyright law are a photographer's sole means to support their career. Scripps stole both of those from Philpot. Larry Philpot brings this action to protect not just his rights under copyright law, but also his photography business.

IV.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. The Highly Competitive World of Freelance Concert Photography

7. To say that concert photography is a tough business is a severe understatement. It requires artistic skills, business skills, and interpersonal skills. Before having the opportunity to even take a photo, concert photographers must invest in expensive equipment and negotiate to obtain access to the concert stage. At the concert, they must battle all the variables that arise from an uncontrolled setting—a rowdy crowd, horrible lighting that is always changing, and musicians constantly moving. Not to mention, it is really loud. As a result, despite all of their efforts and hard work, concert photographers often take photographs that are entirely unusable, where the rock stars appear as blurs and washy blobs.

8. Financially, concert photography can be a high-risk business venture. Freelance concert photographers earn money when they license or sell their work product and from photography engagements. If the photographs are unusable, which is often the case, or simply aren't good, then the photographers do not receive any type of payment and are unable to expand their portfolio—which is necessary to obtain additional business.

9. And, in today's technological age where anyone with a smart phone can take pictures at concerts, concert photography is becoming significantly more competitive, making it even more imperative to capture the perfect shot. Because that is all that there is demand for—a few once-in-a-lifetime shots for each star. It doesn't matter if a concert photographer takes 100 good shots of a star at a concert—an article about Willie Nelson, for example, only needs one picture of Willie Nelson—the best one.

10. In such a cutthroat environment, it is essential that concert photographers receive the compensation and credit to which they are entitled, but also need to advance their business.

11. Each and every instance where a photographer does not receive proper attribution, or his work is misattributed, decreases the value of that photograph and the overall value of the photographer's portfolio.

B. Larry Philpot: A Professional Concert Photographer

12. Larry Philpot is a renowned freelance photographer who specializes in taking photographs of musicians at concerts and other performances. Philpot has distinguished himself from amateur photographers by creating a highly coveted portfolio that demands legal protection to preserve its standard.

13. He has spent years perfecting his craft, and his photography business includes licensing his works and photography engagements.

14. Philpot is known for the unparalleled quality of his work. He employs photography techniques that involve precise angles, timing, assessment of light, and other creative approaches that he has worked tirelessly to develop. At a concert, Philpot has the uncanny ability of connecting with the artist from the crowd. In addition, to ensure the highest quality photographs, Philpot uses state of the art equipment. He has invested tens of thousands of dollars in equipment.

15. He has established a strong reputation for himself and his work, and due to his professional reputation, he often obtains privileged access to take photographs of musical performers at concerts. Indeed, there are over one hundred instances where Philpot has received exclusive press credentials.

16. There is an extensive market and a demand for Philpot's photos that includes, but is not limited to, the musicians themselves, the musicians' fans, record labels, talent agencies, editorial organizations, media entities, radio stations, website operators, and concert and event planners. Philpot has been very successful in this market.

17. Philpot understands that part of being a professional photographer is to market your works to gain widespread exposure, and that the high use of his photographs has required licensing agreements and copyright protections.

18. Philpot has entered into license agreements with Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers for his photographs.

19. Philpot has also licensed his work to various musicians in exchange for attribution including, but not limited to, the musicians Kid Rock and Paul Stanley of KISS.

20. Further, Philpot has previously licensed several of his photographs through a stock photography agency called "Corbis" and its affiliate "Splash." Philpot received monetary compensation through Corbis and Splash for licenses for photographs he took of Prince, Madonna, Fleetwood Mac, and the 2015 Indianapolis 500 Race and Winner.

21. Philpot has also been engaged as a photographer by Hoosier Park LLC d/b/a Hoosier Park Racing & Casino to photograph “meet and greets” between celebrities and fans.

22. Philpot’s portfolio and reputation as a premier photographer are critical to his business. The more his photographs are viewed with proper attribution, the more access he can obtain to take celebrity photographs, and the more he can command in licensing fees.

C. Philpot Creates the Willie Nelson Photograph

23. On October 4, 2009, Philpot created a photograph of Willie Nelson in St. Louis, Missouri (the “Willie Nelson Photo”). A true and correct copy of the Willie Nelson Photo is attached as Exhibit A.

24. The Willie Nelson Photo is an original work that Philpot registered with the United States Copyright Office as part of a collection of photographs on September 5, 2012. The Willie Nelson Photo is registered with the United States Copyright Office under Certificate Number VAu 1-132-411. A copy of the copyright registration certificate for the Willie Nelson Photo is attached as Exhibit B.

25. As the owner of the copyright in the Willie Nelson Photo, Philpot has the exclusive rights to (1) reproduce the Willie Nelson Photo in copies, (2) prepare derivative works based on the Willie Nelson Photo, (3) distribute copies of the Willie Nelson Photo to the public by sale or other transfer of ownership, or by rental, lease, or lending, and (4) display the Willie Nelson Photo publicly.

webpage as it existed on September 26, 2018 with the Willie Nelson Photo is attached as Exhibit C.

D. The Creative Commons License

27. A Creative Commons license is a simple, standardized copyright license that anyone can use to license their work. The copyright holder designates their work as governed by a Creative Commons license, and anyone may use the work provided they adhere to the terms of the license.

28. In an effort to market his freelance photography practice, Philpot offered the Willie Nelson Photo through Wikimedia for distribution, public display, and public digital performance under a Creative Commons Attribution 2.0 Generic license (abbreviated as “CC BY 2.0”). A copy of the CC BY 2.0 license is attached as Exhibit D.

29. This license allows anyone to use the work, provided that they, among other requirements:

- a. Include a copy of the Uniform Resource Identifier for the CC BY 2.0;
- b. Provide attribution to the author of the work; and
- c. Provide the Uniform Resource Identifier that the licensor specifies to be included with the work.

E. Restrictions on the Willie Nelson Photo

30. Larry Philpot provided the following description on the Wikimedia website for the Willie Nelson Photo, “Willie Nelson getting ready to perform. Farm Aid 2009. Photo by Larry Philpot, www.soundstagephotography.com.” Philpot also provided the following attribution requirement: “You must attribute the work in the manner specified by the author or licensor (but not in any way that suggests that they endorse you or your use of the work).”

F. Scripps Infringes Philpot's Copyright in the Willie Nelson Photo.

31. Scripps infringed Philpot's copyright in the Willie Nelson Photo by publishing, copying, and displaying the Willie Nelson Photo on the <https://www.wcpo.com/> website at <http://www.wcpo.com/sports/baseball/reds/quiz-what-should-be-your-walk-up-song> and https://app.contenttools.co/system/images/photos/000/080/889/thumb/Willie_Nelson_at_Farm_A_id_2009_-_Cropped.jpg?1459972254. A copy of these webpages as they appeared with the Willie Nelson Photo is attached as Exhibit E.

32. Scripps did not provide attribution to Philpot when it published the Willie Nelson Photo.

33. Scripps did not list or link to Philpot's website, soundstagephotography.com when it published the Willie Nelson Photo.

34. Philpot discovered these infringements on April 30, 2017.

G. The Damage Done

35. Defendant Scripps Media passed off Philpot's Willie Nelson Photo as its own, ignoring Philpot's primary requirement under the Creative Commons license to allow Defendant Scripps Media to use his copyrighted work—the credit. Philpot has been deprived of the credit for taking the exceptional Willie Nelson Photo.
